

ECCO-AOCC Visiting Travel Grant

In 2022, the Asian Organization for Crohn's and Colitis (AOCC) and the European Crohn's and Colitis Organisation (ECCO) offer two collaborative ECCO-AOCC Visiting Travel Grants.

The aim is to offer an opportunity for European investigators (ECCO Members) to visit Inflammatory Bowel Disease (IBD) Centres in Asia or for Asian investigators (AOCC Member) to visit an IBD Centre in Europe (ECCO Member Countries), to learn about advanced endoscopy related to IBD or to be a clinical observer as an IBD Specialist.

Two ECCO-AOCC Visiting Travel Grants may be given in 2022. In order to be eligible, the candidate must:

- Not be older than 40 years at the time of application.
- Provide a letter of confirmation from the Head of Department of the host centre.
- The applicant and the host have to be members at the different societies (ECCO & AOCC, respectively) at the time of application. E.g., a European ECCO Member can apply to visit an Asian institute under host supervision of an AOCC Member and vice versa:
 - ➔ Award 1: AOCC Member goes to ECCO Member centre in Europe
 - ➔ Award 2: ECCO Member goes to AOCC Member centre in Asia
- State the scientific purpose for travelling to the selected hosting centre. If a scientific project is attached to the application, it makes it more likely that this application is scored higher than others, but it is not essential.
- Travel Awards aim to enhance the opportunity for IBD trainees and specialists to visit either European IBD Centres or Asian IBD Centres. They are not designed to support travel to congresses or meetings.
- Members of ECCO or AOCC committees are excluded from applying.
- Only one application per host institution is allowed. That is, one specific host institute can only support/invite one candidate.
- Send your application by email to the AOCC Office aocc_office@aocc-ibd.jp by August 1 (name, full contact details, ECCO or AOCC member ID, purpose and time of the visit, copy of confirmation from the hosting centre, CV).
